OAKWOOD
HIGH SCHOOL N
1950

"All experience is an arch wherethrough gleams that untravelled world—" This year we members of the class of 1950 are looking through the arch of our high school experience at Oakwood into the untried future. This book of our senior year we dedicate to our parents, friends, and teachers and to you, Oakwood, our inspiration.

It is with regret that we leave our Wonderland. We wish to thank those who led us "through the looking glass" into the fascinating world of academic knowledge. With the background we have gained, we, the graduating class, now turn to the future with a zest for achievement. We hope through the use to which we put what we have learned that we can make the world a better place in which to live.

ALL THE KING'S MEN

Under the gavel of its two presidents, Harry Ebeling and Taki Anagnoston, the Oakwood Student Association did a well-organized job of student government this year. Each semester the group, made up of the entire Oakwood High Student body, elected twelve representatives and four officers to form the student council.

Advised by John N. Lewis, the principal, the council met every Thursday morning this year in S-4 to discuss and settle student problems.

The first semester officers were Harry Ebeling, president; Tom Powers, vice-president; Jane Rich, secretary; and Dick Wilson, treasurer.

Officers for the second semester were Taki Anagnoston, president; Jim Rae, vice-president; Bob Neumeister, secretary; and Ellen McMahan, treasurer.

O. S. A.—Second semester: Front row, left to right—Cosner, Smiley, Stork, McMahan, treasurer; Mackay, Leupold, Kleinhenz; back row—Williamson, Hardy, Har-

The organization sponsored the sale of football program which the Booster's Association had printed and found advertisers for. Student council members volunteered to sell the programs at the games. The council received $100 and 10 per cent from the revenue of the sales.

The council also supervised pep assemblies throughout the football and basketball seasons. It also engaged such speakers as Dr. O. H. Warmington; Dr. Larmen Sherwood, the blind minister; and Annie Fern Swarthout, niece of Annie Oakley.

Plans were made for a panel discussion to debate the Honor System. Members from the Student Council and the the National Honor Society discussed the pro's and con's of adopting such a system at Oakwood. Taki Anagnoston was the moderator for the eight students who argued the question.

bold, Kobes, Jim Rae, vice-president; F. Young, D. Collins, Neumeister, secretary; T. Anagnoston, president. This second semester group discussed the honor system.

council members, Betsy Stookey, Jane Flint, Laura Turner, Dorothy Zehrung, Jane Lyon, and Sylvia Kelly. The Girls' League banquet, bottom picture, provided loads of fun for both the league members and their mothers. It was held in the library.

Duchesses of Oakwoodland

All new Alices were welcomed to Oakwoodland in the early fall when a tea was held in the Girls' League lounge to acquaint them with the league. A lounge committee was inaugurated to keep S-4 in order and supply it with paintings from the Art Institute. A paper drive, headed by Mary Ann Webber, provided funds to decorate for the annual Christmas dinner. The dinner was a huge success because of the smooth production of "Why the Chimes Rang", given by Joy Hallum and her committee, and the delicious food served by a number of helpful mothers.

Spring brought Chit-Chats, the Mother's tea, and the Big Sister party, which helped to introduce the freshmen to senior high life. On May 13, after many preparations, the Tulip Twirl, the Girls' League annual dance, proved a bright spot in the year's social activities.

A vote of thanks goes to Mrs. Eleanor Brown, adviser, who was always there when needed most.

National Forensic League members started off the year with a bang, with a picnic early in September, below.

JABBERWOCKY TALKERS

The National Forensic League chapter, the strongest in school history, hit a new high in members and degrees this year. The group got off to a peppy start with a picnic at Hills and Dales early in the fall. After a delicious dinner supervised by John M. Martin, speech and dramatics coach, every one gathered around Donna Leupold and her ukelele to sing songs and to listen to talks from the parents and teachers.

After successful contests all over the state, the speech department sent two complete teams to district eliminations at Urbana and Bowling Green. Qualifying for the state speech finals were Bob Good, George Ross, Ron Schreiber, and Fred Young in debate; Donna Leupold and Harry Ebeling in humor; Sue Routsong in dramatic declamation; Bob Good and Leo Slaggie in extemporaneous speaking; and Charles Simms in original oratory.

The whole school was proud when the team came home with three championship trophies from the state finals. The debate team won the state championship in debate, Donna Leupold won first place in the state in humorous declamation, and Bob Good took first place in the state in extemporaneous speaking.

A banquet ended the year for the active seniors.

JOLLY JOURNALISTS

Everyone worked busily in the staff departments to publish The Acorn. While the senior editor and faculty editor scheduled studio portraits, the photographers snapped pictures and the class editor industriously checked names. The activities and feature departments occupied themselves covering the many happenings and highlights of the year, while the artists wielded pens and brushes to create the illustrations.

The sports department covered all the athletic contests.

The patrons editor and advertising and circulation managers worked energetically to induce writer's cramp in fingers of the bookkeeper from recording the flow of money into the treasury.

The faculty adviser kept setting the dynamite charges under the whole staff so that, come June, piles of beautiful buff and blue books were ready for delivery to eager subscribers, who had paid their money and tried to guess identity of the "Acorn baby" way back in January for a free "Acorn", the prize in the sales drive.

In the fall members of the journalism class warmed up to the "Acorn" job by getting out the school Directory and throughout the year they contributed school articles to the community newspaper, the Oakwood Press.

CO-EDITORS Dave Collins and Sally Grant had many sessions with Mrs. Doody, the adviser, to plan The Acorn.

MERRY MUSIC MAKERS

The fifty-five-piece Oakwood High School orchestra presented two concerts, along with the concert band and the chorus, during the 1950 season. The first one, given March 24, presented "Un Bel Di" from the opera "Madame Butterfly", and "Allegretto" from "Ballet Egyptienne".

Both the band and the orchestra participated in the Southwestern Ohio Music Contest April 15 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. They received excellent ratings for their performance of "Moods Americana".

The school dance orchestra filled its engagement book with dates at the youth center and other places throughout the year.

As in the past, the chorus participated in the orchestra's two concerts. Soloists at these concerts were Arden Albaugh, and Ronny Morris, violinists; Alton Doody, tenor; Kenneth Williamson, flutist; Dorothy Zehrung, pianist; and Bob Neumister, baritone.

THE ORCHESTRA, under the direction of Myron McKelvey, music instructor, practiced frequently to prepare for the

The girl's trio, Joyce Brennan, Yvonne Claunch, and Marilyn Cheney, was featured in a musical number, "Rose Marie", with the Girl's Glee Club. The Boy's Glee Club sang "My Buddy" and other songs, and the entire Mixed Chorus sang such numbers as "Night and Day", and "When Day Is Done."

In addition, the chorus provided the musical background for the radio show, "Parade of Schools", in September.

Bob Neumeister brought back honors for the chorus when he received superior ratings for his vocal solo at the Dayton Music Contest and at the Southwestern Ohio auditions at Miami University.

Barbara Ritten also received superior ratings for her flute solo at both contests. Bob and Barbara entered the State Final Music auditions at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, April 22.

TO THE ROLL OF DRUMS

Under the direction of Myron McKelvey, musical instructor, the Oakwood High Band, of which the school is quite proud, participated in a great many activities throughout the year. They included playing in the University of Dayton's Centennial Parade and at the Montgomery County Fair.

The band members worked long hours in every kind of weather to perfect their clever half-time shows. One of the best of these was "The American Blues Revue", which was presented at the Fairmont-Oakwood football game, and featured the marching band playing a medley of American blues songs while maneuvering in difficult formations. Everyday for two weeks before school started the band practiced, and when school started members began rehearsals on the football field at 7:30 a. m. everyday for two and a half months.

During the year a band dance was held in the music room, which was gaily decorated with musical symbols and clever ornaments. When the football season was over, the band held its annual banquet at the Wishing Well Inn. Ohio State University's Rose Bowl drum major was one of the principal speakers on the program, which included movies of the Ohio State University Marching Band.

The highlight of the year came May 15 when the organization played host to the Band Festival. Visiting bands from throughout the Miami Valley participated in the festivities. The massed bands presented a concert in the evening under the direction of Manley Whitcomb, director of the Ohio State Rose Bowl Marching Band. In the afternoon there was a parade up Shafor Boulevard to Patterson Park.

The National Honor Society, started in the spring of 1949, completed its first organized year. Joy Hallum, president, and Miss Baker, faculty adviser, led its successful ventures.

At the change of semesters juniors and seniors with the desirable qualifications—scholarship, service, leadership, and character—were initiated in a ceremony in assembly. A panel discussion, "Should Oakwood Adopt an Honor System," was conducted jointly by the Honor Society and OSA.

Installation of a coke machine and a tea for prospective members were discussed. A baked goods sale and plans for the opening of a stand to sell school supplies completed the year.

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized for the purpose of rewarding high school students for their individual work in journalism and journalistic fields.

Members of this society are chosen from high school students who must meet the following requirements: They must be at least of junior standing, be in the upper third of their class for the semester in which they were chosen, have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor, and be recommended by the adviser.

The motto of the society represents the true journalistic endeavor, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free."

THE QUEEN

OF HEARTS

Activities at the Oakwood Y. M. C. A. Youth Center following the West Carrollton basketball game centered around the selection of Carolyn Cass as Homecoming Queen by the student body.

Harry Ebeling, master of ceremonies, presented Cassie with a beautiful bouquet of red roses, while her attendants each received one rose. To the delight of every one, Jim Solarek, acting captain of the basketball team, planted a kiss on Cassie. Then, as an extra surprise, Dave Creager, her constant admirer, ran up and gave her a big smooch.

The other nominees for Homecoming Queen were Marilyn Sargent, Nancy Theobald, Frances Martin, Mary Lee Marshall, Sue Stockstill, Dottie Huber, Joy Hallum, Anne Zitter, Rita Simmons, Nell McGary, and Donna Leupold. Cassie and the nominees are pictured above, with the exception of Nell and Donna.

Herman's Band entertained the large crowd of fans and Oakwood rooters with its masterpiece, "The Sheik of Araby" along with other numbers. Harry Schlafman plays the banjo. Ted Jordan, the piano; John Smiley, the drums; and Herman Lehman, the trumpet.

Year's

BARBARA BRAUN and BOB GURNICK, below, were elected queen and king of the junior prom, "Tales of the South Pacific", given November 23, to the music of Bob Hines' orchestra. Gay South Sea murals and ornaments decorated the gymnasium. Junior boys sang "South Pacific" songs, and the program was M. C'd by Ellen McMahon.

Proms

ADELE COSNER and PETE HOOVEN, below, were queen and king of the "Dogpatch Drag", given by the sophomores February 21. Al Capp's comic-strip characters dominated the decorations, which were murals of Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae and schmoo cut-outs. Nancy Mayne was mistress of ceremonies for the program, which included Hill-billy songs by sophomore boys.

MARILYN SARGENT and GENE FOLKERT, above, reigned as queen and king of the "Tinsel Twirl", the senior prom, held December 22. Decorations followed the Christmas theme with large murals, silver stars, snowflakes, and lighted Christmas trees. There were vocal duets by Rita Simmons and Jane Rich and jazz selections by Herman Lehman's Band. Dave Collins was master of ceremonies. In the picture at the top of the page the prom is in full swing.

The Variety Show, as in years before, was written and directed by members of the Class of 1950. This year's show maintained the high standard set in the previous two years in the fact that it was a roaring success. The show contained six scenes including one from San Francisco in the Gold Rush period, a recruiting center of World War I, a toymaker's shop, a take-off on "The Ballet of Red Shoes", a television station, and a musical revue from the Flapper era in the Roaring Twenties. This picture was taken before dress rehearsal.

Humpty Dumpty Had A Great Fall

The Lumberjacks chalked up no wins for the season. Several heartbreaking games were lost in the final half after Oakwood led the scoring the first two quarters.

Opening the season against Lebanon, Oakwood's hopes for an initial win dropped behind a 20-0 score at the hands of the Warriors. The following week the Jacks journeyed to Vandalia where they were handed another defeat by the Aviators to the tune of 38-0. The first Miami Valley League game ended in a thorough trouncing by Troy's Trojans, 54-0.

Ewing Stumm, scoring the first touchdown of the season, gave the Lumberjacks a 6-0 advantage over Miamisburg at half time. The final half was a different story after the Vikings rolled up 20 points.

The next contest was the traditional game with Oakwood's rival from the South, Fairmont. Spirits hit an all-time low as the opposition scored touchdown after touchdown, to smash Oakwood 66-0. The next week the Jacks were swamped literally in a muddy battle with the Yellow Jackets of Sidney by a score of 32-7. One Oakwood touchdown was made by Bob Morris, who jumped on the ball behind Sidney's goal on the kickoff.

Against Piqua the Jacks scored two touchdowns. One was made by Folkerth, and the other, by Stumm, while the Indians ran up the highest score of the season, 69 points. In the game with the Xenia Buccaneers, which proved the most sensational of the season, the Jacks led at the half, 12-0. But, despite valiant efforts and unusually fine moral support by the cheering section, the final decision went to the Buccaneers, 26-12.

The following week the Green Waves of Greenville rolled over Oakwood, 64-13, ending the season for the Lumberjacks and the remainder of the Miami Valley League.

At the end of the season the annual football banquet was held at Culp's Colonial Inn with Principal Lewis as guest speaker. Coach Andrews gave letters to the following players: Henry, D. Horn, Wilson, Slagle, Claggett, Pepper, Wills, Gurnick, Stumm, Gano, Morris, Folkerth, Cain, Creager, Harbold, Mee, Wood, Wurtz, and managers, Costas, Orr and Smith.

Ewing Stumm was elected honorary captain. Klees, Stumm, Wurtz, Folkerth, Morris, Harbold, Creager, Cain, and Gurnick were given honorable mention in the Miami Valley League.

TOP FLIGHTERS

Taki Anagnoston, member of this year's basketball team, scored more points than any other player in the Miami Valley League, to cop the title of "high-point man" in the League. He also was placed on the first team of the All-Miami Valley Squad.

Although the team won only three games during its season—those with West Carrollton, Parker, and the Alumni—the whole student body was proud of the scrappy spirit which the boys showed in every game.

Taki and Jim Solarek, both seniors, were Coach Watson's star forwards this season. Senior Barrett Kemp played center when he wasn't incapacitated with injuries, and John Henry, another senior, played excellent ball.

The tournament provided a great many thrills for the enthusiastic Oakwood fans in the game with Lebanon. It was one of those nerve-wracking games where one basket meant the lead, one way or another. The team lost the heart-breaking game to Lebanon 42-40.

At the end of the basketball season a banquet was held at the Wishing Well. Those on the varsity who received letters were Jim Solarek, Chuck Harbeson, Ned Johnson, Don Kobes, Taki Anagnoston, Jack Rae, John Henry, Ted Klees, Norris Harbold, and Barrett Kemp.

IT'S A TOSS UP

The senior intramural basketball teams this year displayed some real talent. The Fog Men and Merchants chased each other for honors throughout the entire season, the latter coming out on top in both the league and tournament play. In the league games the Merchants were on top with a 6-0 record. The Fog Men followed close behind with a 5-1 record, losing their game to the Merchants by only 2 points.

The other teams finished in the following order: Lehman's Wha Hoos, the Dubbers, the Hobblers, the Hindus, the Lower Slobovians, the White Trash, the Jerks, the Uncoordinators, the Flying Mares, and the Hoboes.

In the tournament playoff the Fog Men again met the Merchants, this time losing by one point. Tom Liesenhoff swished the winning field goal with a minute to go, leaving the final score 29-28. The Merchants showed team work that will not be beaten by any Oakwood intramural team for a long time.

The same boys played in a Class B Industrial League in which they copped the district trophy. Joe Dooley, the team's captain, has done a good job in helping the team gain winning form. But in intramurals it should be remembered the idea is to give everyone a chance to play—win, lose or draw.

KINGS OF CLUBS

With the first five men of last year's group returning, Oakwood's golf team will command respect this year. Jerry Seiler, who ranked sixth in the state and first in the Miami Valley League, and Gene Folkerth, who ranked fifth in the state, will comprise the first and second men respectively. Bud McCune, Jim Solarek, and Jack Austin will again be third, fourth, and fifth men. This same team last year was second in the M. V. L., third in the city and tied Wilbur Wright for second in the district match, later beating Wilbur Wright by two strokes in the playoff.

Following the district, the team journeyed to Columbus for the state match, where it came in fourth, with Folkerth and Seiler receiving top ratings. The Oakwood golf team has the distinction of participating in both the City League and the Miami Valley League.

Coach Stanley McGowan scheduled at the beginning of the season ten positive matches and two tentative.

MAKING TRACKS

Pepper, Slagle, Weston, Cain, Coach Armbruster. More fellows came out for track after this picture was taken.

The 1950 track team began the year with high anticipation. With the graduation of eight seniors, Lochner, Costas, Grosse, Ritter, Anderson, Lane, Jenks, and Rininger, the ranks of the team were quite depleted. With returning lettermen Quartel, Fred Young, and Cain, the team was made of mostly fresh material. Pete Weston and Fred Young are the only graduating seniors.

Cain accounted for the high jump, discus throw, and shot put. Young competed in the mile run. Quartel tried the 880-relay and also the dashes (100 yard, 220,  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile relay), along with Moore and Slagle.

Weston ran in the 440-yard dash and mile relay. Marty's best broad jumpers were Moore and Slagle.

Coach Armbruster arranged for five meets, including the Miami Valley League meet at Troy. The Oakwood team met Troy, Xenia, Fairmont, and Miamisburg during the season. An inter-class meet ended the year.

GO! And it's Joe Quartel, Pete Weston, and Fred Young, left, ready to tear up the track. OOMPH! Jarvis Cain, center, makes ready on the shot. HERE THEY COME!

It's Fred Young in the lead, right, trailed by Russ Moore and Bob Schumann. These fellows paced the track team throughout the season's meets.

DIAMOND KINGS

Detrick, Gerard, Moore; back row—Claggett, Costas, Zarbock, Pepper, Camp, Hewitt, Orr. Made up mostly of underclassmen, this team has a bright future.

This year's baseball team began the season in competition with the excellent record of the 1949 diamond men. Last year's team tied for first place in the Miami Valley League with Piqua, and won the district trophy, which gave it the chance to go to Cincinnati for the regional tournament. At Crosley Field it met Cincinnati-Hughes which overwhelmed it 9-0. Incidentally this Hughes team later took the state baseball championship.

Although six lettermen, Dick Johnson, Mel Roberts, Jim Kobes, Jim Hause, Dick Stimson, and Bud Thomson were lost from the '49 graduating class, the return of lettermen, Bob Morris, Ned Johnson, Butch Harbold, Charles Harbeson, Ted Klees, and Don Kobes, strengthened the ranks. Harbold again was behind the plate receiving the pitches of Ted Klees. Kobes played first base along with Johnson at short-stop and Gano at third base. In the outfield were found Gerard, Morris, and Finch. Coach Bigelow scheduled ten games plus the district tournament on May 3.

The team started its season playing Fairmont. The complete schedule called for Miamisburg, Greenville, West Carrollton, Xenia, Piqua, Fairview, Lebanon, Troy, and West Carrollton again.

SAFE ON BASE—Don Kobes, left, slides in safe as Ted Klees, backed by Ned Johnson, makes the play. PLAY BALL—Charles Harbeson, center, strides to the plate as

Jim Gerard waits for his turn at bat. WELL? Ned Johnson waits while Norris Harbold signals the play. This baseball team lived up to the fine record of last year's.

EASY ACES

to right—Bob Sarmir, Jim Rae, and John Henry practice their tennis shots at the Patterson Courts. This team hopes to maintain Oakwood's fine tennis record.

The Oakwood net men played twelve matches with neighboring schools. Coach Hummon's plans for matches included games with Troy, Greenville, Roosevelt, Fairview, Sidney, Stivers, Kiser, Chaminade, Wilbur Wright, Fairmont, Springfield, and Miamisburg.

With the winning last year of first and second singles in the Miami Valley League by Creager and Stockum, and first doubles by Candor and Sherk; Schiller, Sarmir and Jensen had a record to live up to.

The doubles teams alternated between Henry—Smiley, Weller—Neumeister, and Ray—Otto. The tennis team again, as in past years, made Oakwood proud of its record. As the team progressed through its scheduled matches, it remained undefeated.

FUTURE GRID STARS

HOORAY FOR HOCKEY!

Every girl in her own way helped to make the 1949 hockey season successful. As last year's rules allowed only three games for the entire season, the change to eight games this year was welcomed. The faithful managers started early in September to schedule contests with other schools and colleges.

Because the weather played tricks, the first games was with Cincinnati. The U. of C. team proved it could win this year by defeating the Lumberjills 3 to 2 the first time the girls met and by winning again, 2 to 1, when the visiting school played on the Oakwood field.

The Jills were thrilled when they left for Western College to participate in the field day. They had high hopes of playing Earlham College but came home satisfied with a 2 to 2 score against Western College.

Another wonderful trip was to Athens, Ohio. After a peek at college dorm life on a Friday night the girls came home Saturday afternoon with a 2 to 1 victory tucked under their belts.

This year the girls evened the season's athletic score with Fairmont by taking the Dragon hockey team 10 to 0. The most fought-for victory was over Fairview, with the score ending 1 to 0.

SENIORS SAY SO LONG!

Four years of fun, work, and anticipation passed swiftly. In the freshman year the junior Jills met Fairview and Fairmont. Both times they registered victories with Nell McGary and Lois Kraft as the outstanding teamsters.

What a thrill it was the first day of the sophomore year to practice with those first string gals! Five or six of the girls discovered that showers were mighty important that year.

The next year the performing seniors didn't give the lowly juniors any chance to make the first string. Nevertheless Joanne Maginnis was fortunate enough to be a first string substitute. Cassie, Rosie, Sally, Zit, Stookey, and Rich had to be satisfied with playing on the reserve team.

Junior memories also included the new rules that were passed. What a sad looking bunch of girls they were when Coach Hayner reported that there would be only three games all season! However, the team fought hard and won two of the three games. It was fun working with the mighty seniors that year and seven girls were awarded letters for their work.

This year six seniors finally made the grade with Rich and Maginnis as co-captains and Grant as honorary captain. Included in the six are Nell as wing, Dottie as halfback, Joanne as center, Jane as center-half, and Sally and Cassie as fullbacks.

CHAMPIONS

Team work and coordination all helped to make the Oakwood Girl's Basketball team a spectacular success. The team played eight games during the season, each member sharing the well-earned victories.

Bonnie, Smitty, and Eppie, those three unforgettable forwards, just couldn't miss. A combination of swishers, bunnies, fouls, and push shots all helped in making the points which led the girls through an undefeated season.

Bonnie's clever jokes, Smitty's rough and ready manner, Joanne's effervescence, Rosie's long arms, Moon's glances up into the balcony for that certain friend, and Eppie's winning personality will never be forgotten by the teamsters.

No matter how hard the girls tried, they just couldn't rack up 70 points in one game. But Coach Hayner was satisfied with 69 points, the highest score made by the team.

The girls considered their game with Cincinnati the best of the season, even though it ended in a tie. They didn't realize, however, that overtimes weren't allowed and were disappointed with the tie.

To complete the season the Boosters gave the basketball girls a banquet at the school. Twelve major and seven minor letters were awarded by Coach Hayner. Joanne Maginnis, Moon Mullen, Rosie Kleinhenz, Betty Epstein, Bonnie MacKay, Nancy Smiley, Carolyn Cass, Barbara Sharkey, and Sally Grant each received tiny gold basketballs, given by the Boosters club.

BONNIE MACKAY, acting captain of the girls' basketball team, also excels in other girls' sports at Oakwood High. In national tennis this year she worked her way to the junior girl's final round. She was a first string right inner on the hockey team, the star center forward on the basketball team, and first man in badminton singles.

FIRST TEAM STARTERS, clockwise, Mackay, Maginnis, Smiley Kleinhenz, Mullen, Epstein.

CAGE QUEENS

Along with many hours of basketball practice went fun and laughs.

One day the girls got tired of basketball so they decided to try softball. The results were a few sore muscles the next day.

Coach Hayner's room was a meeting place for the jokers. "Say, Bonnie, where did you learn all those cute jokes?"

Joanne really has muscles! After practice she'd climb up on the rails in the gym and chin herself. Maybe some day she'll be a wrestler.

Moon and Cassie tried to reduce the hard way. They could be seen doing their exercises between practices. Doesn't look like those exercises did much good though. They'll have to try dieting.

Bonnie and Eppie, those two tomboys, wanted to try playing boy's basketball; so when Coach Hayner was gone they tried it. After ten minutes of play Bonnie was out of the game with an injured leg, the girls were all so tired they could hardly stand up, and the score stood 2-2. They decided that they'd stick to girl's basketball.

For anyone who wanted to go home with both legs and arms, the best thing to do was to keep out of Smitty's road. She'd do anything to get hold of that ball.

It's a good thing the team didn't plan on the guards making points. No matter how hard they'd try they just couldn't sink one. Moon and Cassie finally decided to lift Rosie up to the basket so she could get the satisfaction of making two points.

SPRING SPORTS

For the first time in several years a girls' softball team was organized as a spring sport. At Acorn press time the University of Cincinnati and Beavercreek had been scheduled for games. The outlook was promising with Bonnie MacKay, pitcher, and Norma Slack and Dorothy Mullen, powerful hitters.

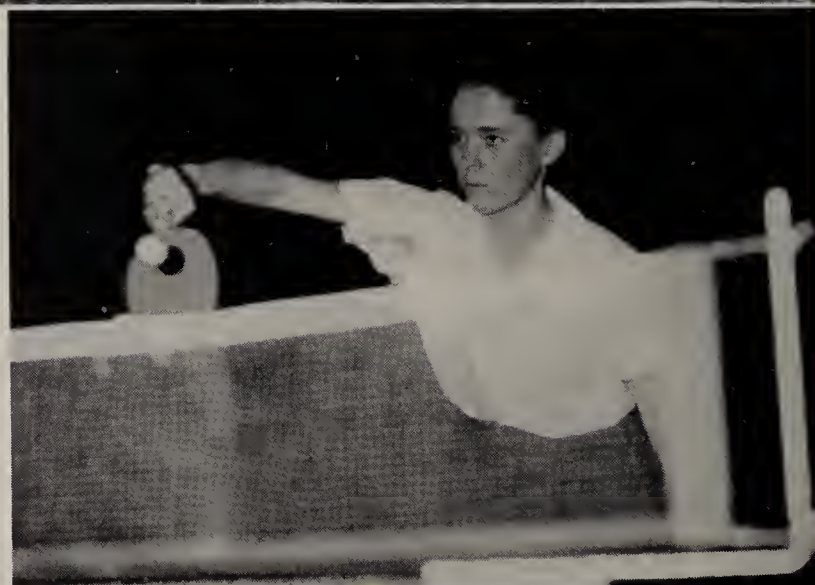

The juniors were the spark of the ping pong tournament because they won the highest honors. The contest for singles between Barbara Sharkey and Barbara Teegarden was a hard fight with Sharkey winning.

For doubles Teegarden and Nancy Breidenback came through victorious after a fast game with Jane Thomas and Barbara Sharkey.

Badminton was one of the main sports during the winter. For the first time in several years the girls had a team that played against University of Cincinnati and Beavercreek. At Cincinnati the girls won six of the ten games in the match and at Beavercreek the girls won all seven of the games.

In the intra-murals, after many rounds of eliminations, Bonnie MacKay won in singles with Joanne Stoycos, runner-up. Janie Lyon and Joanne Stoycos won in doubles with MacKay and Sharkey as runners-up.

MARY ANN WEBBER, center, wields a mean ping pong paddle. The poor bird suffers when Bonnie MacKay and Joan Stoycos pound the life out of it in badminton.

Hunting Focke, Kleinhenz, Zumbrink, Cass. These lassies represent the Oakwood girls' fine tennis form.

WHAT THE DEUCE?

An early start at practice this year enabled the tennis team to be well prepared to meet its opponents.

The team had some real ability with Bonnie MacKay, the Ohio champ in the junior girls division, playing as number one man.

Throughout the spring months Bonnie was busy going to tournaments. She reached the final round in the Western Indoor Tournament.

Little Betty Epstein was also a powerful newcomer. Although she was only a freshman she managed to show her ability and made the team.

BACKHAND strokes and serves filled the sunny days when Betty Epstein and Bonnie MacKay, left, and Mary Steady and powerful Mary Lloyd Hunting wasn't allowed to play on the team because of a heart condition.

The two lettermen, Rosie Kleinhenz and Barbara Sharkey, returned to the team in good form.

The girls had a tough schedule. They played two games each with Middletown, Fairview, Hamilton, those rivals down the pike, Fairmont; and their good friends, the University of Cincinnati.

The team had a successful season and should continue its record next year.

Lou Shank and Gretchen Focke, right, were able to practice. They are members of the tennis team.

JUNIOR JILLS

The freshman girls had a hard but successful hockey season. Although they were able to play but one game, they scrimmaged a great deal with the varsity team, which was excellent practice for them. They won their game with Terrace Park, 2-0, with Jean Halderman and Betty Epstein making the goals.

Also the freshman girls came out in a big way for basketball and played six games.

At the end of the season seven of the hard-fighting teamsters were awarded minor letters by Miss Hayner at the basketball banquet. They were Barbara Richardson, Sue Demarse, Joan Taylor, Betty Chaney, Suzanne Grant, Mary Zehrung, and Pat Williamson.

Although they lost five of their six games, they fought hard all the way. The girls lost to Franklin, 33-11; to Middletown, 31-13; to Fairmont, 14-8; to West Carrollton, 13-8, and to Beaver Creek, 25-14. Their victory was from Troy, 18-7.

Betty Epstein fought extra hard and was a member of the varsity team. She was awarded a major letter and a gold basketball.

The tennis courts were a popular place for the girls this spring. Sally Miller, Jane Biebel, Mary Schiller, Suzie Zumbrink, Dottie Colburn, Mary Burke, and Isabelle Funkhouser all helped to make the tennis team a sparkling success.

In the two months they played games with Wyoming, Roosevelt, and Middletown-McKinley. Betty Epstein moved right up to the top in tennis, too, and became a member of the varsity team. The girls fought hard all the way and showed much ability.

The Jills also played a great deal of badminton. Returning to the courts from last year were Isabelle Funkhouser and Helen Johnson, who tried for the varsity team. Dorothy Wagner and Suzie Zumbrink represented the seventh grade.

The Junior High Jills have showed their athletic ability in many ways. They are all looking forward to participating in Senior High girls sports, and maintaining the great traditions of girls' athletics in Oakwood High.
